

IT IS CLAIMED:

A new and distinct cultivar of Petunia plant named 'Balrufimvein' substantially, as herein shown and described, which:

1. Exhibits double purple-colored flowers with darker purple venation.
2. Forms dark green-colored foliage.
3. Exhibits a good basal branching character.
4. Exhibits a mounded and trailing growth habit.

10

15

20

25